

Jason Ricci at Ringside Dec 9th 2005

Well its my second night in a row, you would think one night of relentless harp action and guitar shredding would be enough, especially since I'm driving 80 miles one way, but no its just not. It's like getting to see a great event happen over and over.

This night turns out to be even more special as we find out that in the crowd is D.W. Gill and Jason being as gracious as he always is asks for him to play. But before I get to that let's review JR and MP, as the night before they were fantastic, and overall I notice a level of refinement I didn't see last year and as a matter of fact didn't realize was missing. Well it's not anymore and I only wonder what's next for Jason and the boy's, I for one can't wait!!

Now I had never heard or seen DW play so I didn't know what to expect I only knew that Jason had to be a hard act to follow, but what a PRO, this guy played about 3 songs and sang like he'd been there all night. I was very impressed, he played some old classics and added his own twist which made me think I was hearing it for the first time, his harp solos were cook'in. Wow! What a night, I was able to go home feeling I got every bit of my $5 worth.

Only in America!
